Detailed Action

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 USC 102(e) as being anticipated by Johnson et al., (U.S. Patent 6788980).
3. Regarding claim 1, Johnson teaches an information processing system, comprising: a first computing device for:
 - selectively initiating execution of a software application by one of:
 - a. the first computing device if a state of at least one of the first computing device and a second computing device is a first state (Johnson, col.6, l.21-27); and
 - b. the second computing device if the state is a second state, the software application being associable with one or more software objects (Johnson, col.7, l.4-10).

4. Regarding claim 2, Johnson further discloses the system of claim 1 wherein the software application is a socket application (Johnson, col. 6, l.38-39, Java virtual machine performs the socket application – Java 1.1 3rd edition, 1997).
5. Regarding claim 3, Johnson further discloses the system of claim 1 wherein the state is a synchronized state of at least the first and second computing devices (Johnson, col.25, l.3-5).
6. Regarding claim 4, Johnson further discloses the system of claim 1 wherein the state includes information for identifying a group of software applications executed by the first and second computing devices (Johnson, col. 16, l.6-9).
7. Regarding claim 5, Johnson further discloses the system of claim 1 wherein the state indicates whether the software application has an associated listening socket (Johnson, col. 6, l.38-39, col.22, l.56).
8. Regarding claim 6, Johnson further discloses the system of claim 1 wherein the software application is a first software application, and wherein the first computing device is for: in response to execution of the first software application and the state, selectively initiating execution of a second software application by the second computing device (Johnson, col. 16, l.55-62)..
9. Regarding claim 7, Johnson further discloses an information processing system, comprising: a first computing device for:
 - executing a software application that is associated with at least one software object; and in response to a request for initiating execution of the software object, independent of the software application, selectively initiating execution of the software object (Johnson, col. 16, l.19-61, col.21, l.56-60, col. 22, l. 56-67) by one of:

- the first computing device if a state of at least one of the first computing device and a second computing device is a first state (Johnson, col.16, l.55-62); and
- the second computing device if the state is a second state (Johnson, col.22, l.60-61).

10. Regarding claim 8, Johnson further discloses the system of claim 7 wherein the software application is a socket application (Johnson, col.21, l.46,, l.60-61, Java virtual machine performs the socket application – Java 1.1 3rd edition, 1997).
11. Regarding claim 9, Johnson further discloses the system of claim 7 wherein the state is a synchronized state of at least the first and second computing device (Johnson, col.25, l.3-5).
12. Regarding claim 10, Johnson further discloses the system of claim 7 wherein the first computing device is for coordinating a communication of information between the software application and the software object, even if the software object is executed by the second computing device (Johnson, col.25, l.7-9).
13. Claims 11-16 have similar limitation as claims 1-6. Therefore, claims 11-16 are rejected under Tadokoro for the same reason set forth in the rejection of claims 1-6.
14. Claims 17-20 have similar limitation as claims 7-10. Therefore, claims 17-20 are rejected under Tadokoro for the same reason set forth in the rejection of claims 7-10.
